Partner Monitoring

We usually find two models of subcontractor monitoring takes place: Light touch or even lighter. That does not protect you (or the subcontractor) from risk and can result in significant clawback by the Agency. We can carry out subcontractor audits that are real value for money, highly detailed and progressive allowing both prime and partner to develop.

At Agency audit you are only as strong as your weakest partner and so effective monitoring for compliance is the number one priority for the lead party. You might have someone in your organisation already monitoring your partners but what harm is there in a second opinion?

DID YOU KNOW?

At Agency audit your sample will include a random selection of files plus files selected because their data causes a DSAT query. This means that you might get a large number or a low number of subcontractor files selected.

Any error in one file could cause significant recovery action (any issue is treated as systemic until proven otherwise), so do you have confidence that your partner data and evidence is robust?
